Optimization of Utilization

- Mechalogix is designed to increase sawing production and efficiency by generating useful data which can be optimized by saw operators. Sensors placed around the band saw track and provide data on things such as job status, blade speed and feed speed, blade health and blade life assessments, gearbox temperature, and coolant PH levels just to name a few. Mechalogix provides vital insight on your band saw's production, increasing efficiency and lowering cost per cut.

Labor Savings

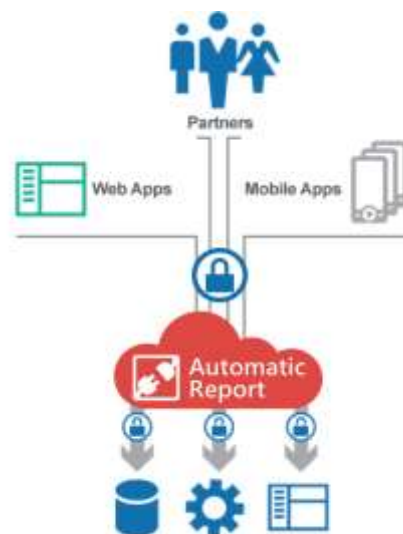

- Preventative maintenance is important when ensuring your saw's health and lifespan. Mechalogix provides data, which when utilized correctly can help reduce labor cost by up to 30%. In times past, overall productivity was impacted by inadequate man power or lack of experience. Mechalogix can provide you with 24/7 data flow and the ability to track multiple machines and cutting jobs all from an easy to use dashboard.

Easy Input and Precision Output Information

- Mechalogix works hand-in-hand with other technologies to help make the work flow more efficient and smooth. Pre-generated work via QR code can be easily scanned into the saw using an HMI/QR reader interface. This helps to better ensure accuracy and reduce the chance of operator error when inputting multiple jobs.

Data Center Bridging

- Mechalogix is cloud based and enables data center bridging services and professional customized interfaces.
